PEACE AND FREEDOM TO BE YOURSELF

Janet sent an email and again today her words were so profound that I thought I would share them with you. It's so awesome to learn from our children! Here's what she wrote...

Good morning family. Today is a beautiful day! We woke, we have food, we have loved ones, we have life!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! I have experienced for the first time -- I am good enough and words from a person could not hurt my feelings! I stood in my truth and received freedom. I saw their pain and need to try to hurt me and, because I made the right decision, I was not hurt by their attempt to hurt me back. I also did not have to hurt them back. So today I dedicate the thoughts to "To thine own self be true". In order for me to do that I have to believe in that little voice that really let's me know if I am doing the right thing or not!!!! It is not easy to always follow this God conscious, except the rewards are indescribable— not only do you feel free, other people involved are set free also. Our actions, decisions and words involve everything and everyone around us--IT IS NOT JUST ABOUT US! May you feel & follow your God Conscious today!

I love you and have an EXTRAORDINARILY IMPORTANT DAY! Laughter burns calories YEAH!! Love Janet

Such words of wisdom! It took me sooooo much longer to learn to be true to my own self. When we compromise what we believe to please or to avoid conflict with another, we actually keep others from growing in their truth. I reached my true self the day I realized that what I was going to say was going to make me miserable, and I decided that if I was going to be miserable, I might just as well be miserable getting my way as agreeing to another's way. Having the courage to speak my truth was difficult that first time, but the overwhelming feeling of exuberance experienced afterwards was a new-found freedom! This doesn't mean we engage in heated debates. It just means we speak our truth, quietly, lovingly and without fear and without retaliation or having to have the last word or having to be right in the eyes of another. I think therein lies the experience of the saying, "The truth shall set you free". My New Year's wish for you is freedom from all that holds you in fear. Peace....gayle

ACCENT ON MISCELLANY IN ACCENTS

A STITCHER WENT A-FROGGING, AND SHE/HE DID RIP IT!
SATURDAY, JANUARY 3RD - 10:30 UNTIL ...

So, what is "Frogging". Every stitcher knows it's when you get to "rip it", "rip it", "rip it"! Start the new year off by taking care of old mis-stitches. If you have projects that are in need of frogging, bring them in and we'll help you find your mistake and share the annoyance of ripping. It's so much more enjoyable when our frustration is shared and we get to the happy place where we can begin re-stitching. Bring your smallest scissors!
