

The Saints are Marching In.... and, Lord, we are in that number. . .

Now I know why they are painting the Superdome gold! It's to celebrate the Saints winning the Super Bowl! Yes, I know that's not really the reason, but won't it be awesome if we have that connection to remember the year that the Superdome shifted from gray to gold.

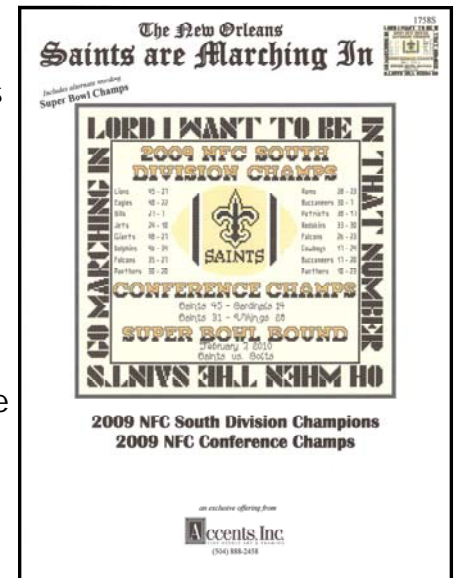

This new chart from Accents will help you keep this Special Season etched in your memory forever. It has a border around the inner design that reads, "Lord I want to be in that number Oh when the Saints go marching in".

Inside the border is a tribute to our Division Championship. The football is centered below the Division Champs wording and between the game scores for the year; the first eight games on the left and the second eight games on the right.

Below that is the Conference Champs info with the Cardinals and the Vikings and the game scores.

Next is a header with the wording "Super Bowl Bound" with the date of the game and the teams listed below.

Inside the chart an alternate header is charted with the wording "Super Bowl Champs". Also included is a chart of numerals so that you can insert the score of the game.

The design size of this chart is 183w x 166h. On a 14 Aida or a 28th linen the stitched size will be 13" x 12". (remember that your fabric will need to be larger, approximately 21" square would be my recommendation. The retail price is $8.00. Charts are presently available in the shop.

FYI: alternative suggestions for the outer border— insert the Saints Spirit #1 Fan in the center or the Saints Fleurish fleur de lis in the center.

I've said before that it's been an awesome year to be a Saints fan. Our positive thoughts are still necessary, maybe even more necessary than before. We have to drown out the pessimists. Let's focus on seeing a Super Bowl Champs banner hanging with the South Division champs and the NFC Conference Camps banners. I exhort you to banish all thoughts of that not happening from your consciousness!
